Executing Sustainable Growth Programsm

Companies committed to achieving Sustainable Growth are focused on consistent execution of their growth plan. They have identified and focus on those activities that provide for profit levels that exceed their competition, industry benchmarks or both.

Global Perspective Consulting, LLC (GPC) provides executive coaching and consulting that compels companies to assess and redirect their capabilities to achieve Sustainable Growth.

Sustainable Growth oriented companies and organizations consistently ask and address the following questions:

1. Is our business plan providing the alignment and direction for the organization to execute the strategic goals and objectives in the plan?
2. Are the strategic goals and objectives, behaviors and activities of the organization resulting in the projected and required profit levels necessary to sustain and grow the business?
3. Do our strategic reviews and internal processes allow the organization to maximize opportunities and engage with the strategic shifts required by the dynamics of the global business environment?

Companies interested in executing their own Sustainable Growth program will have an active, current and dynamic Vision, Mission and Business Plan. If one or more of these strategy foundation elements are not currently in place, GPC can review and assist your company in fulfilling that requirement...and more.

The Executing Sustainable Growth Programsm is a customized program that is developed after an initial on-site visit and discussion with GPC's principal, Clarence Rivette. A scope of work and engagement letter is issued and presented in a subsequent meeting.

Clarence Rivette provides a unique approach to assisting companies committed to achieving Sustainable Growth.

Clarence M. Rivette presents seventeen years of global leadership experience and accomplishment in roles from both for-profit and not-for-profit companies and his experience as an officer in the United States Navy.
